Studio Session:

'A picture speaks a thousand words' – Pregnancy is intimate, beautiful and amazing time for many expecting parents. Whether it is Baby Nr. 1 or Baby Nr. 5. The awesome wonder of the experience is just the same, and it only often happens less than a hand-full of times in a woman's life.

My mission is to draw out the beauty and femininity of pregnancy, no matter how you are feeling. As a skilled maternity photographer, I am to make your experience intimate and beautiful by using fabric and movement to enhance the standard photos which are also included during your session.

I am an international award winner of an Award of excellence with PhotographyAssociation.com as an approved Maternity Photographer. For more information about this award, please feel free to visit <http://maternityawards.com/>

I am open to ideas you have regarding showcasing your pregnancy in a modern and authentic way and would love to help you create the maternity photography experience of your dreams.

As an award winning maternity photographer with over 7 years experience in maternity photography, I am able to create the most beautiful images and provide an intimate experience for your session.

I adore researching creative and interesting ways to light my maternity clients that enhances the beauty of their bodies. The studio is a homely environment which provides a safe and secure space to create these images. And love chatting to my clients around other concepts such as a milk bath session.

On Location Session

This is an exciting session at a location of your choice. My preference is to shoot at Delta Park as it's a gorgeous location to shoot during the 'golden hour' before sunset. I prefer to shoot either early in the morning, at sunrise, or late afternoon, at sunset. This is a location that offers great versatility and provides options for backdrops to add variety to your images. I also prefer shooting here as it's a natural environment for kids to enjoy and they can run freely and enjoy the park life. I like to combine these shoots into mini family shoots as well and capture beautiful portraits of siblings.

The beauty of doing your session on locations means that you can incorporate your own style. It can be Urban or Country, formal or casual. Pregnancy is a natural and organic event so doing your session on location means that the environment lends itself to creating exactly that.

This style is weather dependent so if the weather isn't great, then we may need to reschedule for another date and time. The best time of the year to do your shoot is during Autumn and Winter when the light is the prettiest....after all, photography is painting with light.
